

CORE PLUS BOND FUND

4Q
2024

Fund Description

The TSW Core Plus Bond Fund (the "Fund") is managed by Bill Bellamy, who has been with the firm for over 20 years and overseen the strategy since 2005. Security selection and sector allocation have been the primary drivers of return while duration and yield curve positioning are considered secondary contributors. The team believes that a nimble approach combined with strong in-house fundamental analysis can lead to opportunities in the credit market often overlooked by larger investment managers. The "plus" portion of the fund allows for investments in high yield credit securities of up to 20%. This allocation is driven by relative value analysis versus investment grade bonds and serves to enhance income and returns compared to a traditional core bond portfolio.

Investment Objective: The investment objective of the Fund is to seek strong, risk-adjusted total return over a market cycle.

The benchmark utilized is the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index which tracks the performance of below investment grade, but not in default, U.S. dollar denominated corporate debt issued in the U.S. domestic market, and includes issues with a credit rating of BBB or below, as rated by Moody's and S&P. Index constituents are capitalization-weighted, based on their current amount outstanding, provided the total allocation to an individual issuer does not exceed 2%. Due to rounding, totals may not add up to 100.0%. Unsubsidized Yield reflected in table. Credit quality breakdown is based on ratings from Standard and Poor's and Moody's credit rating agencies. Ratings are measured on a scale that generally ranges from AAA (highest) to D (lowest). A bond rated AAA is the most creditworthy, while a bond rated BB or below is much riskier. Any security that has not been given a credit rating by Standard & Poor's and Moody's is listed as "not rated".

If you purchase the Fund through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the Fund and its related companies may pay the intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. Characteristics definitions

Average Life: The average time that a mutual fund's bond holdings will take to be fully payable.

Effective Duration: A duration calculation for bonds with embedded options. It is the percentage change in bond price per change in the level of market interest rates.

30 Day SEC Yield (Unsubsidized): The 30-Day SEC Yield is computed by dividing the fund's investment income per share earned during a particular 30-day base period by the maximum offering price per share on the last day of the base period, and then annualizing the result.

Risk considerations

The value of the Fund's investments will fluctuate with market conditions, and the value of your investment in the Fund also will vary. Value securities are securities of companies that may have experienced adverse business, industry, or other developments or may be subject to special risks that have caused the securities to be out of favor and, in turn, potentially undervalued. Fixed income securities will increase or decrease in value based on changes in interest rates. If rates increase, the value of the Fund's fixed income securities generally declines. On the other hand, if rates fall, the value of the fixed income securities generally increases. Below investment grade fixed income securities, also known as "junk bonds," are not investment grade and are generally considered speculative because they present a greater risk of loss than higher quality debt securities. Investing in non-U.S. securities poses additional market risks since political and economic events unique in a country or region will affect those markets and their issuers and may not affect the U.S. economy or U.S. issuers.
